Antisocial Behaviour Dispersal Area

These powers enable a Police constable to direct any person suspected to have contributed to or be likely to contribute to harassment, alarm, distress, crime or disorder in any public place within a specified locality to leave the area & not return for up to 48hrs.

If a constable reasonably believes that the person is under the age of 16 years, they may be taken home.

The constable may also direct the person to surrender to them any item in their possession or control which is reasonably believed to have been or is likely to be used in any behaviour that cause harassment, alarm or distress.

A person who fails to comply with any such direction(s) may be arrested.

Police officers also have the power to seize & confiscate alcohol (whether in open or in sealed containers) being consumed in any public place in contravention of a public spaces protection order.

Any person believed to have engaged in anti-social behaviour who fails to give their name & address or provides false or inaccurate details may be arrested.

These powers will have effect from 15:00hrs Thursday 30/07/26 for 48hrs.
